

a bit special

Interiors are part of your life, so they have to be right. Mara Lane reports. Photography: Gary Edwards, courtesy of Charo Hallin.

Charo Hallin is not about selling glorious furniture or must-have accessories, it is about lifestyle, interiors tailored to need and taste. Orthodox or unorthodox, trendy or classic, practical with the emphasis on fun, the two-floor showroom presents today's aesthetics in 800 square metres that are the perfect antidote to boredom.

The large space allows owner Marian Hallin to exhibit different collections and contextualise the selection process, so people see what appeals easily. Clients are not confronted with odd pieces of
